We're all users and abusers
Different addictions don't discriminate the pain
You always think that you are choosing
But truth reveals it's just a slight of hand to save face
 So you think you know the reasons
 For your fate
 But if you think you've found the answer
 Why hesitate?
 You're tempting faith
 Another day
 Of fading life signs

We're all lost inside delusions
Thinking our best days are yet to come, unchained
But still you refuse to see you're losing Precious time to change your fleeting life, so vain
 Another day lost in confusion
 A constant state
 Of cheated fate
 for another day
 So don't wait
 For anyone
 To help you
 You're Using nothing but Life

 Still you wait
 You hesitate
 Still you wait
 You hesitate
 To stop Using

So you think you've got excuses, think again
If you think you know the answers
Why do you wait?
You're tempting fate
 Another day
 of life, lost to time Another wasted day for you to start to fight, to make it right

We're all users and abusers...
